Welcome to IUPUI’s 2012 Higher Learning Commission Reaffirmation of Accreditation. The Higher Learning Commission of the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools accredits all public and private postsecondary institutions in its region.

Regional accreditation is how IUPUI documents that it meets the U.S. Department of Education standards which, in turn, allows our students to qualify for financial aid. We are writing the self-study for our fifth, 10-year review and sending it to the Higher Learning Commission in May 2012. Meanwhile, we are seeking internal and external comments related to the review.

Here on this website you will find links to our report and a place for your comments. In addition, you will see the listing of town hall meetings scheduled throughout the spring semester. I encourage you to attend these open fora and directly give us your input.

In November, the accreditation team will visit the campus and then make recommendations regarding our accreditation.

We hope you will join in our efforts to refine the self-study, gather information for improvement, and make IUPUI the best university possible.

Thanks.
